SUMMARY

Software Engineering graduate from WeThinkCode_ with a background in Financial Science, bringing analytical precision and structured problem-solving into software development. Trained in a rigorous peer-to-peer environment that demanded independent thinking, collaboration and accountability.

I design and build web and mobile applications with a strong focus on clean architecture, maintainability and understanding systems beyond surface-level implementation. Adaptable, observant and experienced in working with modern technologies including cloud tools and generative AI, I approach new technologies with curiosity and discipline, continuously refining both my technical depth and execution.
